Italy Aids Finns With Planes; Roosevelt Hopes For A "Happier Era"

WASHINGTON, (UP)—President Roosevelt today told President Kyosti Kallio of Finland that he hopes "these tragic days may not be long in giving way to a happier era."

Mr. Roosevelt's message was sent on occasion of the Baltic Republic's 22nd anniversary of its independence from Russia whose armies now are attempting to invade Finland.

ITALY SENDS PLANES

HELSINKI, (UP)—Finns, although cheered by the reported arrival of 50 to 60 Italian airplanes to add strength to their air force, feared danger from another quarter today when it was reported that Russia would call on Estonia for greater military cooperation in the Soviet campaign against Finland.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE

LONDON, (UP)—Russian troops have advanced to the outskirts of Finland's famous Mannerheim line inside the Karelian frontier with the Soviet Union, the Finnish legation announced today. The Russians advanced 11 miles during the fighting on the Karelian isthmus, the announcement said.

SECRET SESSION

LONDON, (UP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain is preparing for a secret session of the house of commons Dec. 13 for discussion of vital questions of war supply, it was understood today.

BY UNITED PRESS

While Finland braced itself for a major Soviet offensive in the north, new handwriting on the wall appeared today in a Moscow suggestion that Rumania conclude a mutual aid pact with the Russians.

In view of Italy's proclaimed determination to keep Soviet influence out of the Balkans and reported Italian aerial assistance to the Finns tremendous importance was attached to an article in the "Communist International" of Moscow, official organ of the Communist international organization. It proposed that Rumania negotiate pacts similar to those which Russia forced on Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania and which she sought to impose on Finland.

Because of the source of the Russian suggestion it was regarded as a strong hint of immediate Russian police toward Rumania.

CALIFORNIA DEMOCRATS MAY MAKE BID FOR CONVENTION

SACRAMENTO, (UP)—Paul Peek, Long Beach assemblyman and chairman of the democratic state central committee, today estimated that a guarantee of $300,000 could be raised to bring the 1940 democratic national convention to California.

The proposal was discussed at a meeting of the executive committee of the central committee but no formal bid was made pending a meeting of the full group. Peek said both Los Angeles and San Francisco desire the convention.

Chief purpose of the executive committee's meeting was to take steps to secure wider publicity of activities of the state administration. Creation of a salaried position of executive secretary was discussed.

Gov. Culbert Olson spoke to the committeemen briefly, informing them that the coming special session of the legislature will be convened early in January, perhaps on Jan. 8, and that the formal call will be issued before Dec. 20.

Forest Supervisor and Mrs. Edwin F. Smith returned Tuesday evening from a vacation trip of about ten days, spent at San Francisco, in the Santa Cruz district and at San Luis Obispo.

Allies Now Faced With Two Aggressors; Russia May Get In General War

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Cable Editor

The chances of Russia becoming involved in the European War grew greater today as Britain and France pondered the extensive protests against the invasion of Finland.

The desire of the Allies to deal first with Germany, weakened as the implications of the Russian drive westward became apparent.

The Allies are faced with two aggressors, not one. The British and French are realizing more and more that if they are to be consistent in their fight to guarantee the weaker nations of Europe against conquest, they must meet the Russian threat as well as the German.

The feeling is growing in England that the time to face the issue is now. If Germany is crushed and Russia gets complete control of Finland, with a toe-hold on Sweden and Norway, the end of the war with Germany will see Stalin entrenched with his loot.

Then either the conquest would have to be accepted or a new war started to drive the Russians back.

Acceptance of the Russian conquest is unthinkable to a powerful body of opinion in both Britain and France, which fears the spread of Bolshevism in Europe. Besides, acting as policeman against Hitler's plundering and at the same time accepting Russia's would make a travesty of the allied declaration of war aims.

BALTIC CORPORATION GETS PERMIT TO SELL STOCK

Sixteen miles southeast of the Alhambra Mine at Kelsey, El Dorado County, scene of the $1,000,000 gold strike reported recently, the combined Columbus group and historic Mount Hope mining properties soon will be the major development activity. This has been announced by Florian Sciaroni, president and manager of Baltic Mines Corporation, 124 Jones Street, San Francisco, says a Sacramento paper.

Permit to sell and issue 25,000 shares of the corporation's capital stock at its par value of $1 to equip the property with modern machinery, has just been granted by the commissioner of corporations. The issue will be handled from the company's San Francisco office.

It was announced the initial plant will be installed at the portal of the main operating adit on the largest of three gold bearing quartz veins, where the first shots fired will produce sulphide ore assaying across a twelve foot face at $51 per ton. On attaining depth, the parallel vein fifty feet west will be tapped by crosscut and a parallel adit, carried north. Later the Mount Hope (intersecting) vein will be operated via the old adit, still in good condition, with immediate sulphide ore production via winzes in known pay shoots, one sampling $71 across two feet in the floor. Aside from gold values the ore of all three veins is said to carry lead, zinc, silver, and in the large main vein, tungsten. All ore produced will be milled, pending construction of the company's own mill, in the 100 ton modern flotation plant of Cosumnes Mines, Inc., a mile down the canyon on the North Fork of the Cosumnes with a good connecting road.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Curtis, of Missouri Flat, are the parents of a daughter, Mary Louise, born December 1 at a hospital in Placerville.

PHILATELISTS VALUE SEALS

Design For Current Season Is Work Of Rockwell Kent

By MILDRED M. BLAIR
Publicity Chairman

Rockwell Kent, America's most prolific writer as well as explorer, is the artist who designed the Christmas Seal and the Christmas Seal foster in their vigorous simplicity of color and line. The influence of our two great world's fairs is seen in the thoroughly modern conception of the angel; but, foremost on the Seal is found the double-barred cross, the international emblem of the Christmas Seal, which gives it beauty and symbolic meaning.

This Seal is a splendid work of art showing the fusion of ideals of the Old World and the New.

Many Christmas customs have come down to us from pagan times, and have been adopted to Christian use with the blessing of the Church. Nearly all have a religious origin, ancient and remote, and by gradual degrees through the centuries, customs and symbols have become so intertwined with early Christian influence, that Christmas to-day is a period of joyful celebration, with a wealth of age-old symbolic spiritual significance.

One of the most beautiful of these, coming to us from the Old World, is the custom of portraying the angel as the spirit of peace and good will.

Indeed, it was the early childhood influence of his foreign-born nurse—to whom Christmas meant angels—that impelled Rockwell Kent to create this very distinctive 1939 Seal.

The poster shows the angel scattering the blossoms of peace and good will upon the earth, while the Seal itself, shows the head of the angel in profile—arm outstretched. In both types, for the first time, the Lorraine Cross is the predominating motif, but for the first time, our national colors, alone, are used in the little Christmas Seal!

These features, besides the historical background, made this seal of value to stamp collectors. Each sheet also carries four center "Eloah Seals," and on the 57th Seal will be found the identification mark of the printer. On these Seals is a tiny "U" in the lower right hand corner.

Colorful bookmarks have been placed in four libraries to be used in books taken out during this period,—the libraries in the grammar and high schools, the city library, and the teachers professional library.

Health and peace go hand in hand in the march of progress. May the little Christmas Seal of 1939 be a mighty factor in providing a greater measure of health for the young people of our county.

Christmas Seals may be purchased in the business district at Murray's store and the Placerville News Company.

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The Weather Bureau today forecast comparatively fair and mild weather for Northern California and indicated a storm expected to bring rainfall to the drought-stricken area had passed over without leaving much precipitation.

The bureau said that there were no indications of rain or winds for the area for the rest of the week and the only break in the fair and mild conditions would be along the coast, where morning fog would prevail.

It was explained that unsettled conditions in the Arctic Circle were causing storms which form over the ocean to move northward and empty their rain over Canada instead of along the west coast. The weather observers believed storms forming in the Aleutian Islands would take the same course.

Irrigation districts, stock growers, and farmers are worried by the lack of rain, fearing serious conditions in the spring unless the winter months bring heavier precipitation.

WAR DEMAND SPURS DEVELOPMENT OF CHROME

MINE IN NEGRO HILL DISTRICT BY

U. S. CHROME COMPANY

Extensive operation of the United States Chrome properties and plant in the Negro Hill section of El Dorado County, has been undertaken by the Rustless Iron and Steel Company of Baltimore, Md. This has been disclosed in Reno by A. H. Wild, president of the United States Chrome Mines. H. F. Bryant, vice president of Rustless Iron and Steel, will be in charge of the enlarged activities, says a Sacramento paper.

Operating what is said to be the only concentrating plant for manufacture of ferro chromite in North America on its Negro Hill properties, the United States Chrome Mines has milled and shipped more than 4,000 tons of concentrates in the last two years.

Under the new arrangement capacity of the plant will be more than doubled and mining operations conducted along greatly expanded lines.

Situated about four miles from Rattlesnake Bar, the Negro Hill properties are credited with containing one of the largest deposits of commercial chrome in the United States. Electrically operated, the plant is equipped with a crusher, rolls and rod mill, and is supplied with water pumped from the American River through a pipeline 3,000 feet long.

The United States Chrome Mines plans resumption of extensive work at its properties in San Luis Obispo County, where important deposits of chrome have been developed. The corporation also controls chrome mines in Glenn, Del Norte, Shasta, Trinity and other California counties, and deposits in Grant and Josephine Counties, Oregon.

Chrome, employed largely in the manufacture of stainless steel, is used extensively in the making of automobiles, airplanes, stream-line trains and various products of the building industries. The war demand has materially increased demand for chrome ore and ferro chrome. Chrome sells at an approximate price of $25 per ton, and ferro chrome is worth more than $260 per ton.

FOLSOM PRISON BARRED TO MINE OPERATIONS, WARREN RULES

Attorney General Earl Warren has ruled that Folsom Prison property cannot be leased by the state for private gold mining activities.

In an opinion to the state board of prison board of directors, Warren declared the Folsom reservation has been dedicated to public use as a prison site and is not subject to lease for the production of gold from unworked gravel beds.

The law was explained to A. H. Mundt, clerk of the state board of prison directors, who asked the opinion after a Californian, name undisclosed, had asked a lease to test unworked placer gravel beds on the reservation.

Warren said that not only was there no law authorizing the lease, but that the state lands commission which controls mineral bearing lands, has no jurisdiction over prison reservations.

The state supreme court several years ago held in a case involving issuance of an oil exploration permit affecting the Norwalk State Hospital that lands devoted to public use could not be diverted to any other purpose, Warren stated.

Railroad crossings were the setting for 491 motor vehicle accidents in 1938, reports California Highway Patrol.

RE-REGISTRATION OF COMMERCIAL VEHICLES STARTED MONTH EARLIER THIS YEAR BY STATE AGENCY

With more than 300,000 postal assessment notices to commercial operators in the mails this week, department of motor vehicles was one month ahead of schedule in preparation for 1940 renewal of licenses.

The commercial cards have been released a month in advance of pleasure car notices to comply with instructions from Gov. Culbert L. Olson "to speed up and simplify the task of annual re-registration."

In releasing the cards, Howard R. Philbrick, director of motor vehicles requests owners of five or more commercial-type cars to immediately deliver registration cards and postal notices, together with a list in duplicate of vehicles to be re-registered to the local Highway Patrol office in Placerville for advance rating and correction of possible errors.

On receipt of the items Captain E. A. Brewster, in charge of the local office, will check all details necessary for re-registration, advise owners total amounts due and when to call for 1940 plates. Receipt of the cards will be acknowledged on the duplicate list.

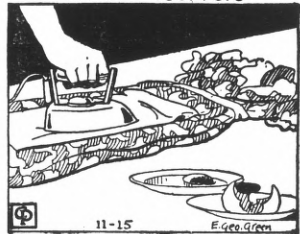

Philbrick announces that necessity for display of commercial type registration cards by vehicle owners will be waived during the period cards are held by local offices of the department.

"Co-operation locally," said Captain Brewster, "will assure owners of a thorough check against possible errors in weights and classification in addition to speeding up and simplifying issuance of plates for commercial vehicles in January."

Individual commercial-type vehicle operators are requested to hold their postal notices until renewal period begins, January 2.

Wife Preservers

An old method of repairing a tear in a dress quickly is to put dress flat on table and smear some egg white on wrong side. Take a piece of fine linen or a piece of the dress goods, if possible, and press down with a hot iron over the torn place. This patch will last for some time, and the rent will not show.

NEW ACTIVITY ON VEERKAMP PROPERTY IN GARDEN VALLEY DISTRICT; MINE WAS OPENED FIVE YEARS AGO

Development of a tunnel from the fifty foot level of a two compartment shaft on the Fred Veerkamp property in Garden Valley was started this week by a small crew of men under A. H. Weiler, superintendent, says a Sacramento paper.

The property, composed of about sixty acres, recently was taken over on a bond and lease from Verne Wiley, C. D. Holm and Jack Holm of Garden Valley and Kelsey by the Alhambra Mine at Kelsey. The Alhambra mine interests also are reported to have taken a lease and bond on the Mrs. Daisy Rolfe property south of the Veerkamp.

The Veerkamp property was opened about five years ago by Gilbert Chisholm who sank the shaft on an outcrop. Near the shaft bottom the ore was lost and it was not until Wiley and the Holms took over the property and continued exploration north that they picked up a blind ledge which is reported to run in good milling values. A foot wide streak of ribbon rock on the footwall is reported to run between $200 and $4000 a ton.

A number of old time miners who worked in the Taylor Mine a mile and half to the north and who have made examinations of the ore state the Veerkamp ledge and the Taylor are the same.

At the time Chisholm operated the property, then known as the Spanish Oak, a small pilot mill of the cyclone type was operated.

MODERN RAILROAD TAKES THE LUNCH FROM RAIL TRAVEL

On a modern railway dining car traveling 80 miles an hour and rounding a curve there is no danger of the waiter spilling hot soup down milder's back. This was not always so, according to A. C. Drynan, manager of the International Correspondence Schools railroad department, and in a sense it emphasizes the successful methods which have been perfected to take the fatigue from rail travel.

Passengers now may walk the aisles of fast trains without being forced to imitate the side swager of a sailor. The reason is that the sideways lurch has been removed. This improvement embodied in some new trains involves a principle, oddly enough, long used on freight trains, the coil spring whose greater resiliency acting in combination with rubber shock absorbers has eliminated the lurch, Dr. Drynan explains. These springs are designed to carry the four wheel track load as lightly as a feather.

On dining cars the principle of freedom from lurch is further refined by stabilizing levers developed on automobiles to prevent side sway on quick turns. No sideways motion is evident at any speed of a train so equipped. Thus, another great improvement in luxury travel by rail has been made.

Junior Safety League Is Incorporated

AUTO, HOME OR SPORTS GIFTS AFFORD ECONOMY IN CHRISTMAS BUYING; RADIOS ARE PROVING POPULAR THIS YEAR

An economical solution to gift problems is assured with the selection of gifts for car, home or sports at the western Auto Supply company, declares H. N. Farrell, authorized dealer.

Make your selections from tires, radios, motorola car radios, and countless auto accessories, roller skates, and numerous sporting accessories. A new feature this Christmas is the introductory sale of all steel wagons for the "All-American Boy." These wagons are ruggedly built through and through with roller bearings, rubber tired disc wheels and are made to stand all the hard knocks expected of the zealous owner.

And speaking of radios, says Farrell, the greater values of them are attracting the most discerning radio buyers of the west. If you are thinking of getting the family a console set for the living room or an extra radio for the breakfast nook or bedroom, you'll find exactly what you are looking for. There is nothing that can say "Merry Christmas" quite so cheerfully as a radio.

Among other things that have been especially popular as gifts are Motorola car radios. Since motorola affords radio entertainment for all who use the car this popularity is easily understood and one quickly realizes why it would be a most enjoyable gift to the family or to anyone else for whom the giver wishes to increase the pleasure of driving.

Automobiles are prohibited from carrying tires in front of radiators in California.

Wife Preservers

If your kitchen table drawers are deep, put in little wooden partitions several inches apart. These make convenient storage slots for different sized kitchen utensils and keep the drawer in better order.

Household Hint

Floors covered with linoleum or oilcloth will do credit to the kitchen or bathroom if mopped with tepid suds. Tiled floors require scrubbing or mopping with hot soapsuds if they are to be kept spick-and-span. In either case daily washing will keep the floors attractive and obviate the strenuous work that may be needed if the washing is put off for more than a day.

Household Hint

A paste made of equal parts of flour and salts, moistened with vinegar, will clean brass objects around the house. Apply with flannel cloth and follow with a good soap and water bath.

Sports Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE

SAVANNAH, Ga., (AP)—Seventeen deaf-mute mice, all wearing soft mittens to make even their sign language more noiseless, could not have held a quieter, more peaceful meeting than the Professional Golfers' Association did a while back in Chicago.

Scheduled to be a stormy thing, with irate officials whacking one another over the head with brassies, No. 1 irons, and spade mashies, it resulted in nothing of the sort. The boys went about their business like a roomful of Alphonses and Gastones as George Jacobus yielded the presidency to Frank Walsh, Freddie Corcoran's contract as tournament chairman was renewed, and the various reports on how to keep robins, worms and women with high heels off the greens were read.

This politeness came as a rousing surprise to all those who follow the doings of the P. G. A., especially in the light of what happened at the last P. G. A. championship at the Pomonok Club in New York during the summer. You remember that awful mix-up when a faction of officials headed by now president Walsh fought to keep Denny Shute from competing because he was a few days late in paying his dues.

So much of the P. G. A.'s dirty linen was washed during the three-day battle, and hung up to dry on the Pomonok Country Club's porch, that it could be sighted by ships at sea. The fight developed into one between travelling professionals—that is, the players who move from tournament to tournament instead of staying at a club—and the home professionals, 94, the ones who keep a job and teach and run a shop.

Or, to state it more simply, a battle between the famous golfers, men whose scores break par and make the headlines, and the golfers who stay at home and are not known. There long has been hard feelings between the groups. The stay-at-homes feel the P. G. A. has always devoted entirely too much attention to the celebrities, and the celebrities think they deserve the attention on the grounds that they are the ones the public wants to see and is willing to pay for the privilege.

Now I don't want to brand myself as a suspicious old character, who goes about poking his finger into a quiet situation trying to make trouble, but I am not yet convinced that all is sweetness and light within the ranks of the P. G. A.

There were too many fat and juicy epithets hurled about at Pomonok, too many noses in jeopardy of being bloodied, for everything to have calmed down so completely. The very secrecy of that Chicago meeting makes me feel that perhaps it was run behind drawn blinds and with the chinks caulked on purpose.

The election of Walsh to the presidency could not have been entirely satisfactory to the playing pros, because he was the man whose fight against Shute caused them to threaten a sit-down strike at the P. G. A. championship. Ed Dudley, a famous professional star, undoubtedly was their first choice. But he didn't get it.

CLUES LACKING IN SEARCH FOR WINNIE JUDD, SAY OFFICIALS

PHOENIX, Ariz., (AP)—Authorities admitted today they were without clues in the hunt for Winnie Ruth Judd, insane murderer. They believed, however, that she would surrender or be captured before nightfall—the deadline they set for her survival in the open.

The playing pros are just beginning their winter tour now, and it will be interesting to see what happens between now and the end of that march around the courses of the country. If I had to bet—a practice I frown on—I'd bet that eventually the pros break away from the parent organization and found a party of their own.

COMMUNITY SERVICE COUNCIL MAY BE FORMED AT MEETING ON THURSDAY EVENING

The proposal for a community service council, which has been advanced in the community from time to time during several months past, will be the principal matter considered at a meeting to be held at the courthouse on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The heads of all organizations of the county which engage in community service work have been asked to attend the meeting and any others who may be interested will be welcome.

We understand that one of the virtues of such a council is that it permits of a distribution of community service work, thus affording work covering a broader field and eliminating duplication of effort in the same field.
